(DERIVED FROM THE ACADEMIA DIFFUSION EXPERIMENT)

MANIFESTO

Who we are: different, but involved in science and education, and business and institutions, and practice and all possible domains ... inspired, ideological, unrestrainedly striving for the Sun, filled with faith, knowing that we still do not know anything at all, the ones who think about the well-being in a prosperous world, developing their professional skills in a new system of meta-competencies of future.

Brief answer: We continued to collaborate after the EUvsVirus hack/matchathon and community.

What we do: we teach the new generation to live remembering the past, appreciating the present, caring about the future; we research to understand the essence and mechanisms for achieving sustainable development goals; inspiring science to be practical and address the world & humanity problems in multidisciplinary, collaborative, problem-based manner.

Brief answer: We trace uncharted territory of global not-knowing-each-other-in-person collaborates, called co-dreamers, on how to generate and facilitate co-evolution via co-creation.

We ARE creators of something new, that doesn't fit in the tracks of journals, methodology, innovation, collaboration (in a good way). We just held hands tightly, looked back, remembered all the mistakes, took the best experience with us and went ahead. This path is very thorny and full of questions about the veracity of the chosen route: Who are we? Where are we going? For what? For whom? What will we leave behind? We know our motivation and our goal, and we are uncovering the 'how'. We have deep faith in the unifying power of dreams and belief in the well-being of the world. Each of us is entrusted with his/her time, knowledge, experience in the world treasury. We promise to work day after day for the well-being of present and future generations. World, please forgive us that we have been connecting our hearts for so long and looking for co-dreamers! Now we are united in our dream and faith! The Covid-19 pandemic, one of the greatest tragedies of the 21st century, has become immense bifurcation point for rethinking the entire life of the global eco-system. Bit by bit, we create new scientific interactions, inspire theorists, breathe life into science without boundaries and conditions. Every day we prove the main theorem - I did everything possible for future generations. Science is alive as long as we breathe life, faith, hopes, dreams into it, are inspired by it and inspire others. Let's do it together!

How we do it: by co-dreaming, co-experiencing, rethinking, rebuilding, co-creating new structural interactions and energy-rich ecosystems for a «academysourcing» (instead of crowdsourcing)

Why we do it: World's well-being - which is not general concept from now, it is the personal responsibility of each of us!

Our goals are: to create an open information, research space and trajectory for open science and innovation, to form a new culture of empowered science and innovation, when knowledge is addressing the real problems of citizens and the world as a whole and forms open innovative solutions.

Our mission is: the inspiration & involvement of science in practice, the formation of a culture of academic citizenship, co-creation and co-evolution, the REAL IMPACT.

Our vision: by studying problems, not fearing but diving into them, we spark innovations that can change the world for better. We are finding ways to pioneer new, better ways for academia to improve this (and the future) world & life.

Truly Yours,
THE CO-DREAMERS
